1981 DAVIS WOLFPACK

IN THE CENTER OF THINGS

We're building for the real world at Davis High School. The cycle begins with grade school, and from there school is a way of life. We face things alone, yet we face them together because we share a common experience that can never be replaced. It is here at DHS where we have set goals, made decisions, challenged our own dedication, and consciously begun growing into what we ultimately will be. We were in the center of things this year. We cheered at football games, made friends, chanted in the halls, and ran in and out of the office for tardy slips. We always found time to drag main, and occasionally found time for studying. At times it was difficult, but we made it through another year. In retrospect, this year has been the very best!

RON SCHIMMEL

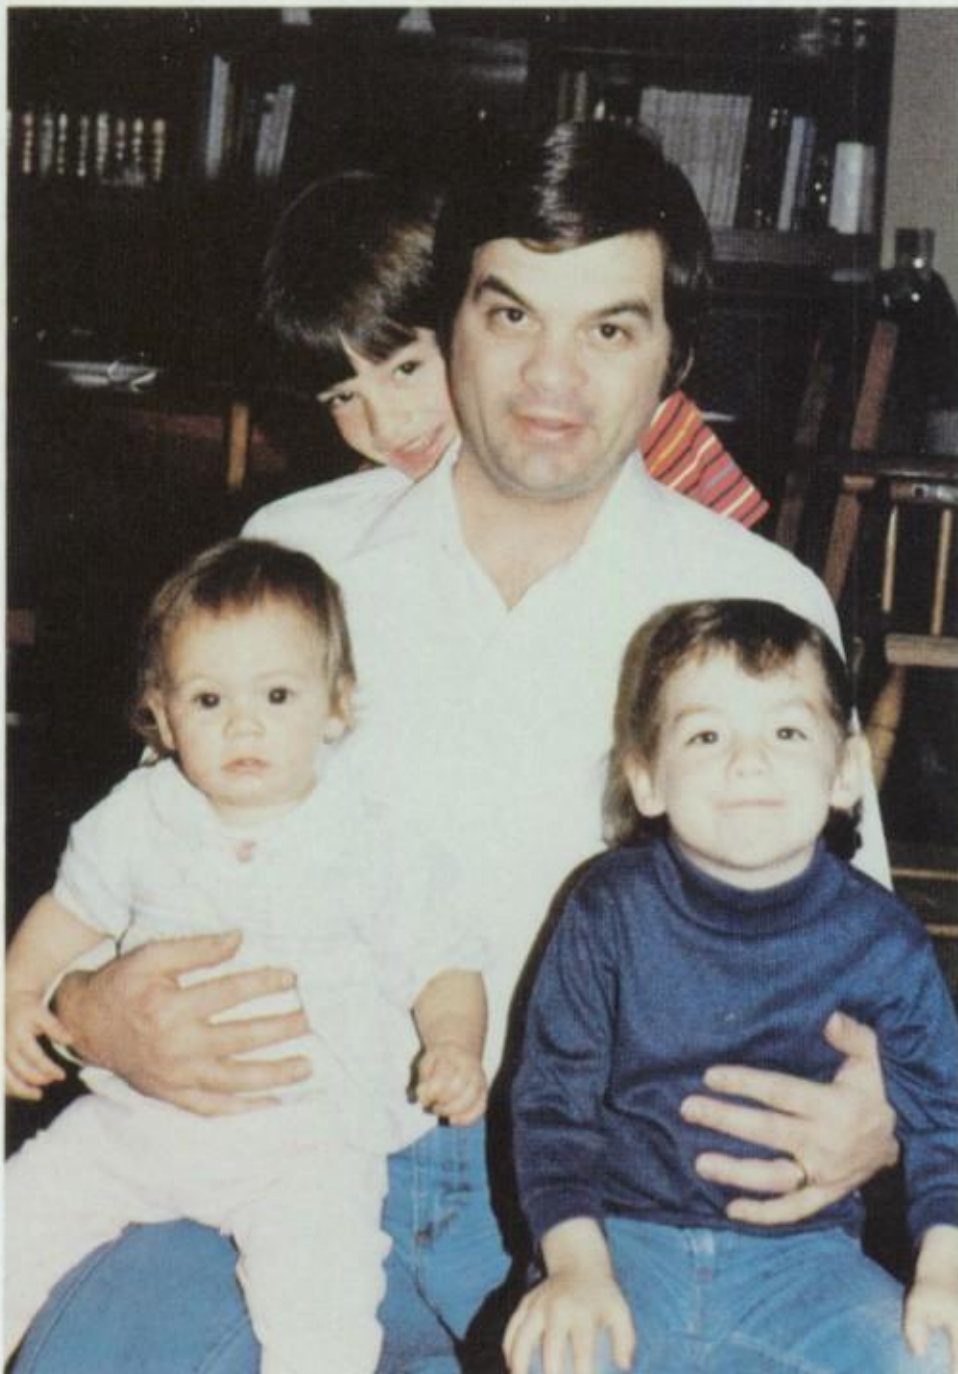

DEDICATION

DEDICATION

The editor and staff of the Davis Wolfpack Yearbook proudly dedicate the '80 edition to Mr. Ron Schimmel. Mr. Schimmel came to DHS three years ago to assume the position of high school principal. He has displayed a sincere interest in the day to day problems of the students and faculty at Davis High. Mr. Schimmel has brought to our school his qualities of superb organization and clear thinking as he helps us and our school plan for the future. Winning the respect and admiration of a school is not a feat easily accomplished, yet through dedication and perseverance, that is just what Ron Schimmel has done.

And so we've completed another year of high school, our last. DHS has been more than just classes. It's been a major part of our lives. As our high school career comes to a close, we can sit quietly and reflect upon time spent here. Pictures flash through our memories, and it's like watching a favorite movie with scenes of winter snow and spring-time and parties and fun . . . Those were the moments that could only be lived once—that's what made this year unique. You see, we've accomplished something in the past months. Through daily experiences we have matured a little, laughed a lot, and made mistakes, but those moments are built into our lives now. And we're even more prepared to be in the center of things . . .

BUSY DAYS . . . Monday . . . Tuesday . . . Wednesday . . . Books to be devoured . . . essays to labor over . . . a physics experiment due . . . an undecipherable math problem . . . Homework . . . whether or not it had a definite effect on schoolwork and grades, doing your homework was one sure way of passing . . . losing one self in studies and activities made it all pass much more easily . . . even those Monday morning blah's would leave you when "the young and the restless" turned to "another world" of diversion . . . watching daytime dramas . . . the soap opera was a view of a constant flow of life which students haven't started living yet . . . the student's life was one of seemingly endless classes . . . when sometimes classes just seemed to float by . . . everyone would zone out and the teacher would get no response to anything said . . . you wondered if teachers got bored, too? But it wasn't all routine . . . There were spots of color that brightened those black and white days . . . the difference between existing and living . . . maybe it was walking your dream man off the football field . . . or having your poem posted on Mrs. Aaron's VIP wall . . . or winning a spirit stick at the pep assembly . . . or sleeping . . . going to bed early to catch up on sleep you lost the night before . . . as you dozed off you could hear the echoes of everyone's thoughts . . . can't wait till Friday.

Bottom: "What's wrong with chewing on 'em? They're not fattening; they're not habit forming; they don't cause cancer; and we don't have to write sentences if we're caught chewing on them."

Above: Remembering which class is next and what books are needed is such a confusing task for Barbara Holler.

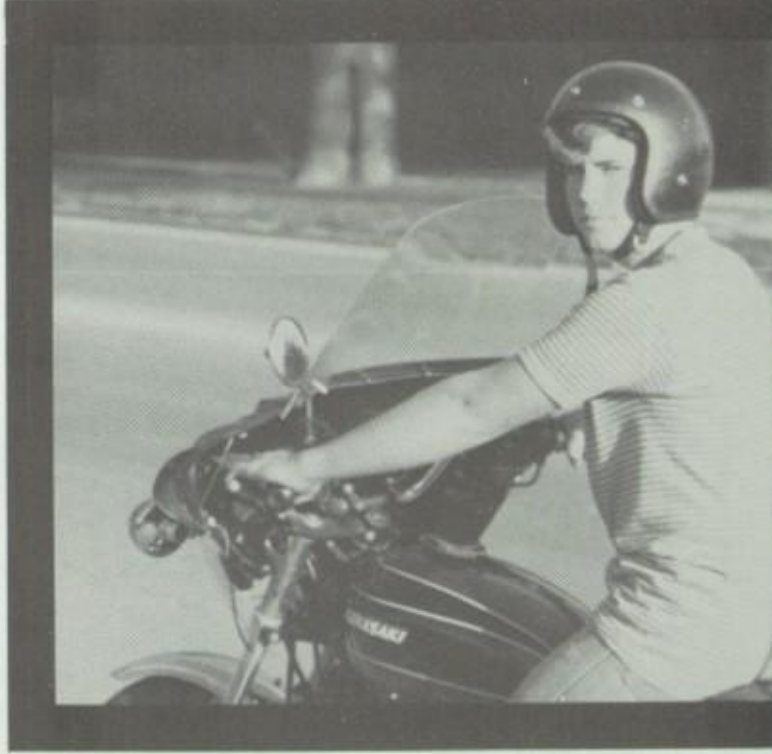

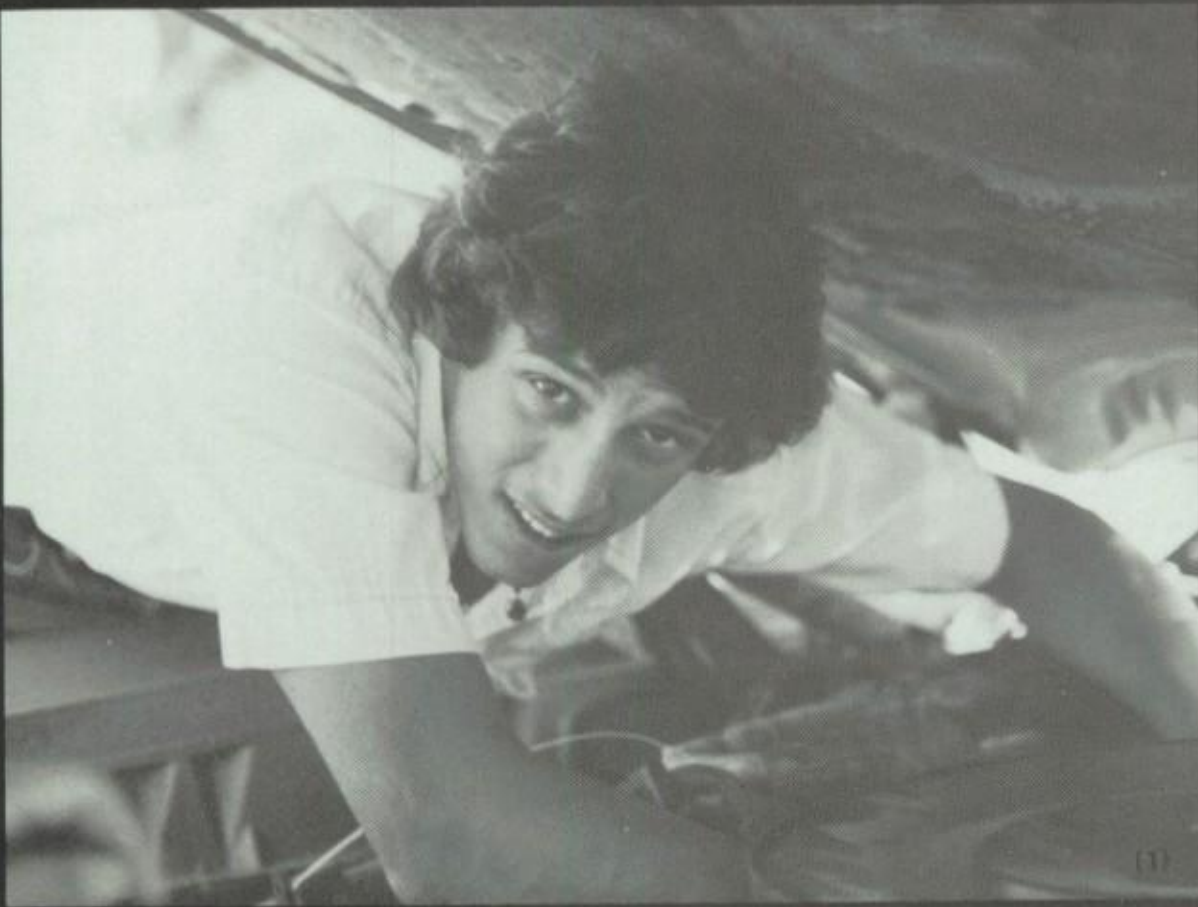

Below: Julie Byrd is totaling the high cost of being a senior—graduation announcements, memory books, appreciation folders, etc . . .

Upper Right: Bill, Bryant, Aaron, Kevin, and Kurk—the studs??

TRANSPORTATION AT DHS

- (1) And Doug Branch said, "Just hold your horses! I'll be finished in a minute!"
- (2) Paul Yates—Davis' own Evil Knievil?
- (3) Myra Wade is getting nowhere fast!
- (4) If you could make that thing go as fast as Paul Williams can, you wouldn't need a car either.
- (5) Putting shoe polish on Barry's new car was almost Karen's last living deed!
- (6) "If Doug and I can't fix it, the Fonz can't either." said Kevin.

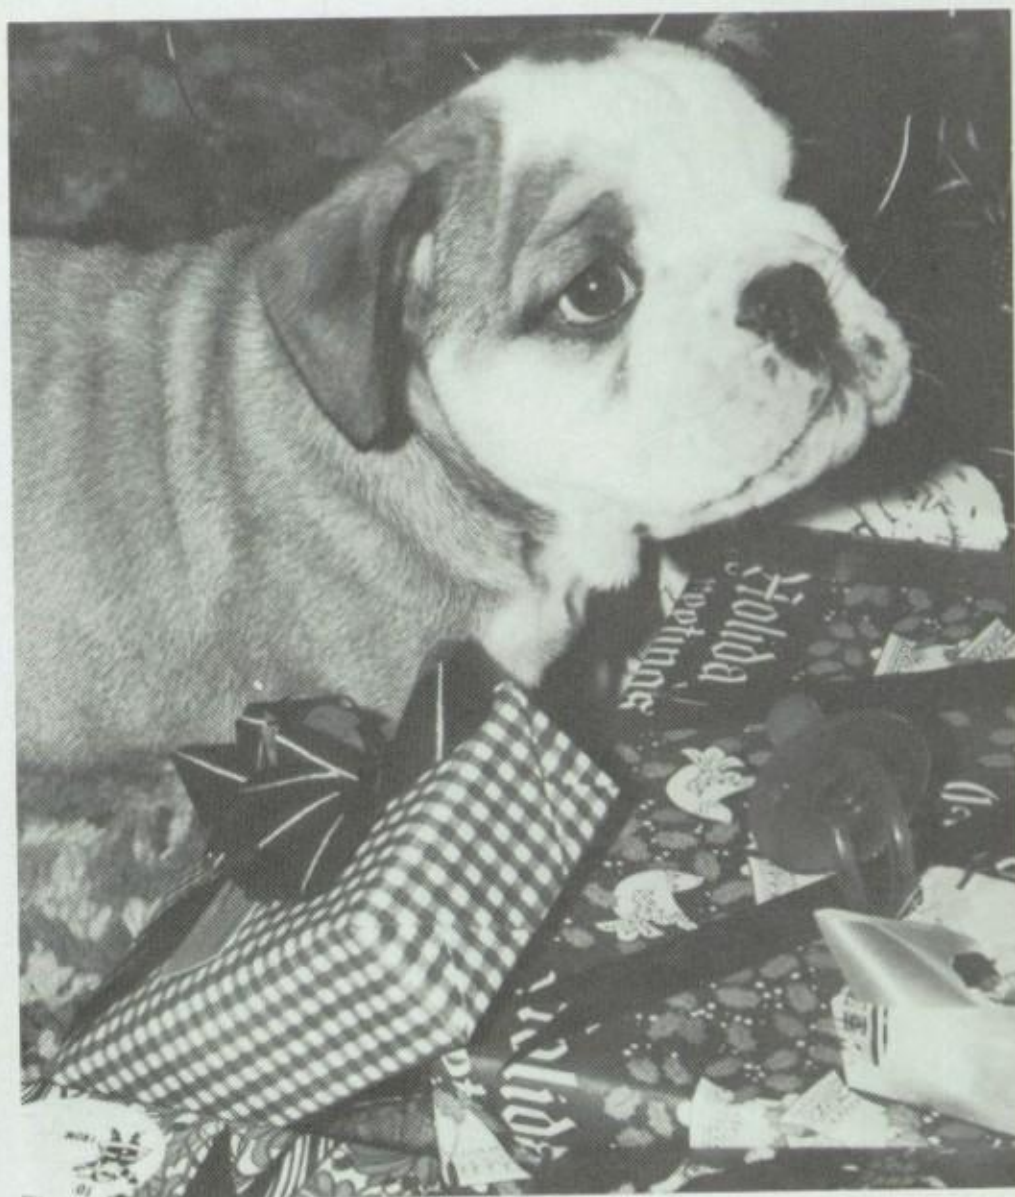

CONCESSIONS ANYONE?

A BULLDOG?? Even worse, his name is "SULPHUR!" So why is he pictured in the Davis Wolfpack? Well, because in truth, he belongs to one of the DHS cheerleaders, Stacey Drake. We think "Sulphur" is a good example of the deep friendships we have with our old arch rivals. Ten years ago, students of DHS might have ripped this page out of the yearbook, but the Sulphur-Davis gang fight days are behind us; and we're proud to say, "Isn't it nice to be friends?"

"IN THE CENTER OF THINGS"
for one brief moment!

We'd like to dedicate this page to those tender, young saplings who have started their new lives on the DHS campus. As they begin climbing, striving, and reaching for great heights of majesty, we are reminded of the classes that they commemorate, striving to attain the same mighty heights . . . And these are the saps who planted them!

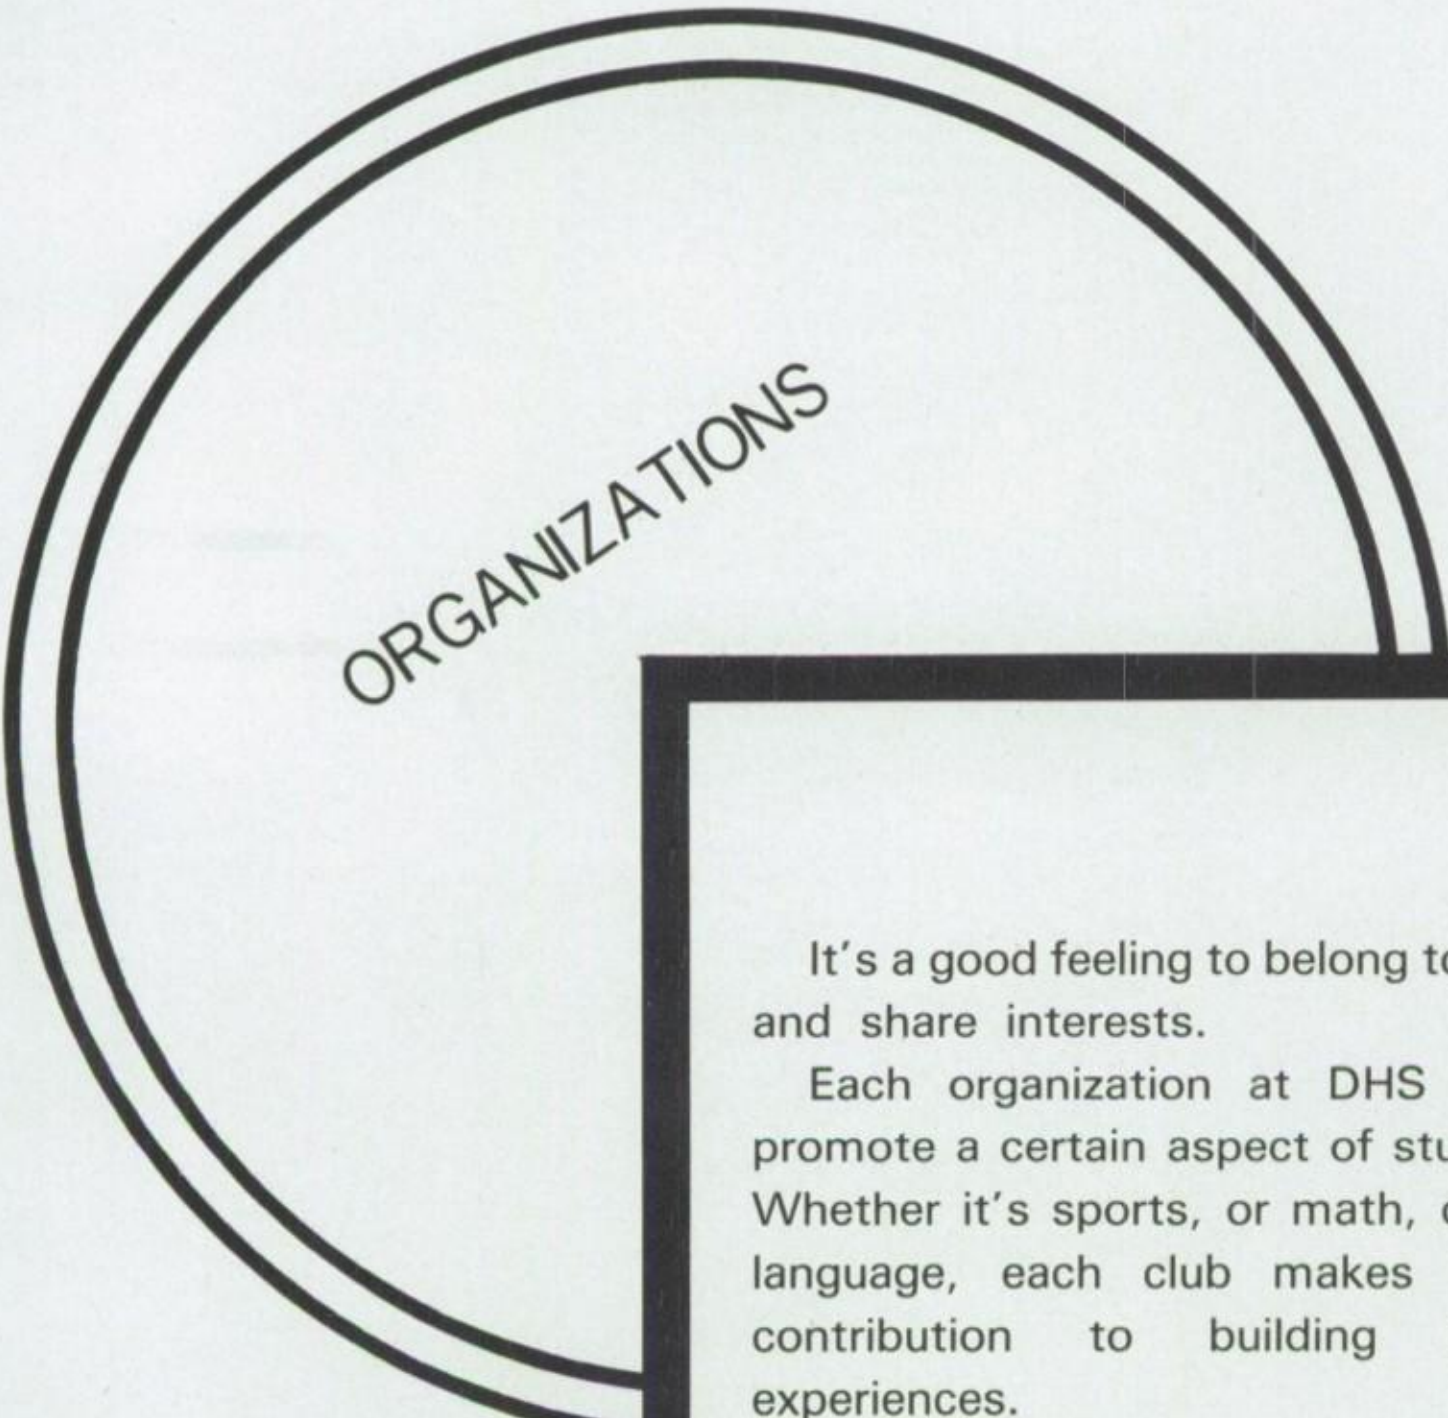

(1) Once again Barry Gerard, president of the Junior Class, is eating up all profits; No wonder the junior class is always broke.

(2) Julene Hudson—one of the reasons DHS is noted for it's good-looking girls!

(3) Arbuckle Wilderness is certainly producing some very exotic animals!

ORGANIZATIONS

It's a good feeling to belong to a group, and share interests.

Each organization at DHS helps to promote a certain aspect of student life. Whether it's sports, or math, or foreign language, each club makes it's own contribution to building individual experiences.

School activities keep us busy, but it's worth it because we're "in the center of things."

Spirit sticks, parties, charities, and vocabulary drills may not seem to have much in common, but at DHS they mean only one thing—Student Council.

The Council is composed of delegates from each class and organization plus members-at-large and officers elected by the student body. The Council charge is to promote good will between students, faculty, and our community. This year's council has done just that with tons of tricks and tasks to raise everyone's spirits.

It just wouldn't have been football without the Student Council sponsored bon fires and activities. Who will ever forget "Scrub the Comets" day when everyone wore sponges around their necks to excite us for the game; or how poster parties became a way of life? In November, we prepared our annual Thanksgiving baskets for the needy people in Davis. Each class contributed canned food to make up the baskets; winners were the juniors and freshmen. The Student Council furnished hams to complete the four baskets. By December the members were ready for their own party, and for the second year we went caroling throughout the town. All of the members met at the Pizza Hut in Sulphur to warm up after their performance of somewhat dubious merit. The greatest success of the year came with the Christmas door decorating contest. It was a real sleeper, and took everyone by surprise. Each class decorated a classroom door for Christmas with the understanding that the winning door would secure a Christmas party for their class. Classes anxiously went to work and then—the voting began. A jar was placed in the office for each competing door, and students were asked to vote with a penny as often as they wished. Student Council offered a nifty party that was to be subsidised by the contributions. Little did we know how much competition was lurking in the halls. After careful counting and much excitement, Miss Thomas' class secured the party with a last minute deposit of $60.00, and Student Council was left with a total of $271.81 to donate to charity!

In addition to such frivolity, Student Council also helped our school in our combined efforts to help provide a better education. This year's council donated a brand new video tape recorder to the high school with the funds they've been saving over the past several years. It's been a real assist, and we're mighty proud of it. Homecoming is another of the annual duties of Student Council; so members were kept scrambling in September and January to get ready for football and basketball's big event. Few people will ever see the hustle and bustle behind the music, candles, flowers, and glitter that will make someone's greatest dream come true. Council members demonstrated a lot of organization to execute the two events and to stage Davis' biggest parade.

Basketball season heralded the return of sign parties and locker decorating, but our new addition was the "Word of the Week." Every Monday at our regular noon meeting, members moved the burritos and tator tots aside to eagerly scan the library's dictionaries looking for a new word to master. Mrs. Todd always seemed to end up changing Mr. Webster's definition of our word, and even censoring some of our selections. In any event, we feel directly responsible for contributing to everyone's vocabulary.

To celebrate "Arbor Week" we purchased six trees to be planted on the school grounds. Each class, grades six through twelve, is now represented by a tree especially planted for that class. The seniors picked the Maple Tree in hopes that it would be the tallest (but what do seniors know!)

February brought Valentine's Day and we looked for something new to do in addition to our usual booth where we sell and deliver Valentines during class changes. After many suggestions and rejections, we developed "Hush, Hush Heart Day." Our members made and laminated a special pink heart for every school girl to wear on Valentine's Friday. The girls were not to talk to the boys between classes and those who just couldn't keep silent lost their heart to the lucky guy who made them speak. Talk about wearing your heart on your sleeve, some Romeo's accumulated a heap of hearts. At the afternoon pep assembly, prizes were awarded to the guys with the most hearts and to the girls who had kept theirs throughout the day. Bob Dulaney with five hearts thought he had it cinched until Bill Anderson displayed his eight, but both were put to shame by the seventh grade's own Kevin Salter with a grand total of ten hearts! All of the winners were awarded kisses from the Student Council Members. (Yes, they were candy kisses)

Just to make everything even, St. Patrick's Day saw "Sh! Sh! Shamrock's." This time the girls got to distract the gentlemen long enough to win their Shamrock's. Since the girls were being so forward, we capped the whole thing off with a "girls ask the guys" dance in the school gym. Proceeds from the dance were sent to help fight Muscular Dystrophy.

All in all we think it was a bang up year and hope you did too!

Mu Alpha Theta is a national organization whose purpose is the promotion of scholarships in, and enjoyment and understanding of mathematics among high school students. To be eligible for a full membership, students must have completed two college preparatory courses and be enrolled in their third. For associate membership, students must have completed one college preparatory course and be enrolled in their second. All members must maintain a B average.

DAVIS HIGH SCHOOL SPANISH CLUB

The members of the 1981 Spanish Club are very proud of their organization and enjoy learning a new language and culture. Learning a new language is not as hard as it sounds. It can be fun, you see; it's not all work. They take field trips to spanish restaurants and attend spanish entertainments. Anyone in the Spanish class can be a member of the club throughout their high school years.

A new organization making it a path at DHS is SIGMA SIGMA DELTA. The purpose of this organization is to enable the student of social studies at Davis High School the chance to enjoy a broader experience in the social science field. The activities offered by this educational organization will help the high school student to appreciate the study of social sciences through extra activities not offered in the regular classroom environment.

Sigma Sigma Delta is open to the social studies students of DHS. A Student's grade in a social studies class or overall grade point is not a factor in the enrollment in to this organization unless directed by a proper authority. We welcome Sigma Sigma Delta, joining us in the center of things . . .

HONORS

1980 Homecoming was a whirlwind of events—all centered around the crowning of Miss Karen Lee as Football Queen. Her attendants were Charity Wright and Kim Edgmon. Escorts for the event were Tony Lee, Aaron Bruner, and Doug Branch. Captain Bob Dulaney crowned the queen. Matt Raper, crown bearer, and April Saunders, flower girl, completed the royal party.

Top Left: Spirit sticks were important in raising vivacity at DHS. What did one have to do to receive a red and white merit? Yell in the school halls and plaster signs on the walls; decorate lockers and cars for Friday's upcoming battle; or maybe bribe a cheerleader or a prominent member of the student council! Above: Sandra Green prepares to lay a smacker on her football brute of a son, "Mean Green," at the pep rally held on main street following the Homecoming parade. The players were expecting a sensational smooch from an unknown cheerleader, but were surprised to find that their very own mothers had performed the honors.

The Homecoming parade, a tradition at DHS, was one of the highlights of 1980 Homecoming. Participants included various school organizations, queens, class favorites, bicyclists, the Band, cheerleaders, and many others. All of these added to the color and pageantry that makes DHS Homecoming unique and worth coming home for.

Kim Edgmon giving her famous homecoming pep talk: "BEAT VELMA!"

Although the "Cedar Bark" mystery added much spirit and enthusiasm to the basketball season, one of the most exciting events was the crowning of Sr. candidate Lisa Melton as Queen. She was attended by Kim Edgmon and Janie Hudson. Bob Dulaney, Tony Rabensburg and Mike Rogers were escorts for the event, with Aaron Bruner crowning the Queen. Billy Bailey served as crownbearer and Jayna Fox served as flower girl.

1980 GIRLS STATE Whitney Drake

I was a little uneasy about going to Girl's State "all by myself" with 415 other girls. I wasn't exactly sure what I was walking in to. After spending a week eating, sleeping, campaigning, etc. . . . with each other, we all felt quite comfortable. Evidence of this is the picture of my friends and me at the Akin City pizza party. (We were nicknamed the "Akin City Animals!") The poppy story was told one night during assembly. That's me adding my poppy to the Girl's State wreath.

I'd like to thank the women of the Davis American Legion Auxiliary for giving me the opportunity to attend Girl's State; it was a super experience!

SPORTS

It's not just a game, it's a challenge. Not only a challenge to win, but a challenge to do the best you possibly can.

For the athletes, it's building performance and improving a talent. For the students, it's building spirit and a pride in our school.

It's a way to reach out to the world and discover who we are. Every sport, every event, every team combines as another source of pride for DHS.

We might not always be a winning team, but we come out ahead because we're in the center of things . . .

The 1980 Davis Wolves began their season with an air of excitement and anticipation. A talented, experienced group of players returned from the 1979 Class B Championship team. This year the Wolves would compete in class A. The team would soon prove to be a contender for the championship in their new class.

The opening game saw the Fox Foxes, the number one rated Class B team, fall to the Wolves in a tough physical battle, 34-6. Davis hosted Madill in what many figured to be a test for the high-powered Wolves, but a score of 44-8 confirmed that the Davis Wolves were for real!! Kevin Davenport had two interceptions and Aaron Bruner caught two touchdown passes to pace the team. The "Murray Bowl," the county civil war, Davis vs. Sulphur was next on the 1980 agenda. With great offensive efforts by Bob Dulaney, Aaron Bruner, and Butch Bond, the Wolves outscored the Bulldogs 28-6. Mark Richardson and Johnny Holland along with Tony Lee had exceptional efforts.

The next two weeks proved the dominance of Davis in the area as they defeated Plainview 34-0 and Velma-Alma 51-6. Travis Hickey showed his ability to run in the open field while Bryant Green, Kenny Peery, Davy Webb, Doug Branch, Barry Healey, and Mark Richardson opened up gaping holes in the opponent's defense. At this point in the season, the Davis team owned the number one rating in its class for the third time in four years.

The Wolves traveled to Tishomingo for one of the most exciting games of the season. A great team effort pulled the team from behind and on to a final score of 46-19. Johnny Holland ran for 106 yards while Bob Dulaney tossed two home run patterns to Aaron Bruner. The Wolves finished their third unbeaten season by defeating Wynnewood 35-6, Lone Grove 46-20, Konowa 62-16, and Healdton 42-0. As District Champs, the Wolves entered the playoffs averaging 40 points per game while allowing only 7 points a game.

A tough Heritage Hall team was the first play-off opponent for Davis, and in a hard-hitting defensive struggle led by Brad Mackey, Davy Webb, Galen Hefley and Virgil Betterton, the Wolves finally dominated 20-0. The Pack continued the following week by blasting Chandler 47-12 after rolling up a 47-0 half-time lead on great runs by Holland, Hickey, Lee and Dulaney. A very fine Holdenville team visited Wolf Field. With the Davis defense once again controlling the contest the Wolves cruised to a 34-0 victory setting up the game of the year in Class A football. Davis and Hobart, 1980, a game that fans will discuss for many years, was played at Hobart. In a see-saw battle that kept fans on the edge of their seats, the Wolves tasted defeat for the first time in 29 contests. Hobart scored in the final minutes of the game to win and advance to the finals. While the experience was heartbreaking, the team proved to be champions in defeat as well as in victory.

Following the season, many of the players were recognized for their achievements. They were: Aaron Bruner—District Defensive Back of The Year, All-Area End, All State. Bob Dulaney—District Player of the Year, Area Offensive Player of the Year, All State QB. Johnny Holland—District Offensive Player of the Year, Area Defensive Player of the Year, All-State. Tony Lee—All District HB, All-Area. Bryant Green—All-District Guard, All Area. Doug Branch—District Offensive Lineman of the Year, All-Area Tackle. Travis Hickey—All-District HB, All-Area HB 1979-80. Davy Webb—District Lineman of the Year, All-Area Guard. Kevin Davenport—All-District HB, All Area. Brad Mackey—All-District Tackle, All Area. Galen Hefley—All District End, All Area. Mark Richardson—All Area Noseguard. Virgil Betterton—All-Area Kicker.

1980 was a super year for a super group of young men; it was my pleasure to enjoy it with you as your coach.

Darrin Isenberg found Mr. Carper's class terribly exciting.

The transition from elementary school to junior high is a big step that everyone who goes into the seventh grade feels. This year was no different. Seventh graders walked along the halls of DJH wondering what to do, and where to go next. We had new freedoms such as the choice of lunch places, although the choices weren't many. We could walk or "bum" a ride to town; this was a new and sometimes irritating experience. In elementary we were on top, but in junior high we were low-man on the totem pole. All of the older kids seem to pick on us. Really, it was like being kindergarteners in junior high. Another adjustment was getting tardy slips and admits, and taking semester tests! Of course Davis Junior High has its advantages. For instance, we were able to select our own classes, and we had the privacy of a whole locker to ourselves! Overall, it was good to feel we were "in the center of things," and a part of Davis High School.

Secretaries at DHS definitely don't fit into the secretary stereotype. They spend much of the day listening to obnoxious students asking for free pencils and demanding excused admits, yet they always seem to find time to bandage, little hurts such as a stapled finger or to console broken hearts. They even find time to record grades, keep attendance registers, etc . . . We depend on these women to help keep Davis Public Schools running smoothly.

ARBUCKLE WILDERNESS

Davis,
Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA'S "THEME PARK"

8 Mile Scenic Drive Thru
Over 2,000 Exotic Animals

The scenic beauty of this drive through the animal park located in the Arbuckle Mountains is in itself, a rare experience enhanced by hundreds of animals running free. We are different from other parks and zoos in that our animals are not controlled in small fenced pastures. Our animals are wild and free. We believe animals need to be free and this is one of the reasons for Arbuckle Wilderness.

EDITOR'S ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The numerous changes and the addition of a theme in the 1981 Wolfpack represent the year that was '80-'81. The pages of this book provide your chance to reminisce about the year's exciting and not so exciting moments. It is our hope, and the hope of the 1981 Wolfpack Staff, that this yearbook will be pleasing and beneficial to each of its owners, both now and in future years. If the reader finds enjoyment and satisfaction within these covers, the job has been more than worthwhile. Whitney Drake, 1981 Wolfpack Editor; John Litke, Assistant Editor.

We would like to pay a special thank you to our sponsor, Mr. Robert Jennings who seemed never to run out of patience, guidance or understanding. A special thanks also goes to Kathleen Todd. Mrs. Todd always added the needed sparkle as we sat in the library struggling for a new layout of caption.
